SUMMER SOLSTICE

INTOXICATING
SCENTS

summer

Bright light blazing,

Intense sun energy.

At times overwhelming,

Adventure, freedom, abundance calls,

Long Hope.

Light lasting so long that bed beckons before the dark,

Dusk lingering in pink, apricot, peach, lilac, lavender, blue skies,

Unknown sounds enchant the night.

Mother I feel you under my feet,

Mother I hear your heartbeat.

Songs for the goddess,

Titanium gong vibrations,

Penetrative energy,

Sea serpent convulsions and shared experiences.

Earth: my body

Water: my blood

Air: my breath

And fire: my spirit

Hours spent under the ancient lime tree,

Bodies outside,

Time passes,

Bats flitting across another slow dusk.

Dog nose,

Dog rose,

Intoxicating scents offering themselves,

Before breakfast walk on May Hill,

Cow bells and cow licks and glowing morning light,

Views with nudes and bodies on grass.

One of the first recorded attempts to beautify a town for the benefit of all people,

Golden fields of wheat pointing us to an abundant harvest ahead.

The river is flowing,

Flowing and growing.

River swims not saving us from,

Sun intoxication,

Delirious,

Sun-fucked.

Grateful farewells,

To another magical adventure.

Listen to the trees,
gentle whisper of oneness,
as the leaves rustle.

there is no over what the banks and no bank what over river
